

Getting Snippy

Mary might not have been quite so contrary if she'd had these hand pruners (complete with stainless steel blades and lockable beechwood handles) to help her garden grow. The manufacturer has been in the knife business since 1890, so you know these are a cut above. (Originally $59 each, now 20 percent off with code OPRAH; opinel-usa.com)

Boot Up

These delightful Wellies are easy to pull on, odor fighting, and nonslip. Now if they could just weed the garden and rinse themselves when they get muddy.... (Spring flowers rain boots, originally $85, now 20 percent off with code OPRAH; bogsfootwear.com)

Wax Poetic

Made on a Kentucky farm by a team of local women, these hand-poured soy-blend candles (housed in bamboo-wrapped glass) transport you to a paradise of sweet peonies and fresh grass—your own personal field of dreams. (Field + Fleur Peony Blush three-wick candle, originally $53.50, and Cut Grass two-wick candle, originally $33, now 20 percent off with code OPRAH; hillhousenaturals.com)

Keeping Up with the Chrysanthemums

How is this watering can, made from recyclable plastic, like a Kardashian? It's got an ample bottom and cool style, plus it practically begs to be photographed. And with an eight-liter capacity, it has surprising depth. (Originally $79, now 20 percent off with code OPRAH; gardenglory.com)

We've Seen the Light

By day, they're contemporary white planters. By night, they unleash their solar power and get glowing, in either one stationary color or a rainbow of alternating hues that turn your patio into a slow-jam version of Studio 54. (Solar illuminated planters, originally from $90 each, now 20 percent off with code OPRAH; gardeners.com)

Growth Opportunity

Perfect for a constant gardener: these premium organic seeds from the Netherlands, which yield everything from fresh herbs to a pocketful of posies. Each seed box produces up to 15 plants (indoors or out). (Originally $14 each, now 20 percent off with code OPRAH; www.urban-agriculture.net)

Poppy Love

A garden party without charming (dishwasher-safe) plates like these would be like Easter without Peeps, the Fourth of July without fireworks, Bastille Day sans miniature guillotine—you see where we're going. (Floral Sketchbook melamine collection, originally from $40 for set of four, now 20 percent off with code OPRAH; merrittusa.com/oprah)
