CURATED FOR THE GARDEN STATE HOME

HIGHLIGHTS FROM HIGH POINT

Tracking the Trends

What's new and next in the world of home fashions? Five New Jersey-based designers share product highlights — or trending discoveries — from their recent trek to High Point Market in North Carolina: the furniture industry's equivalent of New York Fashion Week

"I have observed the sharp, squared-off lines in furnishings now softening." With its curved profile, rounded corner, double-tier seat and sculptural back, the Cambria — perfect for floating in a room — was designed as a statement piece with boutique appeal. Shown in mohair, $12,330; $5,985 with customer's own material.

"One of my favorite trends in lighting is the combination of brass and black. It is such an elegant combination, and the Trephine chandelier is just so sinuous and sexy — perfect for a smaller foyer or entryway. I think every room should have a touch of black!" $1,810.
